

UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL
26 June 1985

TRABANDT
WASHINGTON

President Reagan Wednesday nominated Charles A. Trabandt, an Interior Department counselor, to be a member of the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission.

If confirmed Trabandt, 63, would succeed Georgiana H. Sheldon, a Republican who has served in the post for two terms.

Trabandt, formerly served in the CIA and also as chief counsel on the Senate Committee on Energy and Natural Resources.